

'Rethink Carbon' Speakers

Susan Logan - Director, Ecoteric

Susan Logan owns Ecoteric Ltd, a specialist consultancy delivering Low Carbon Sustainable buildings. Susan is a Chartered Building Services Engineer, qualified in BREEAM methodology with years of expertise working with design and construction teams, advising on projects from inception to post construction up to £800M. Susan, a Registered Professional Energy Consultant has experience in energy strategies, management of large sites, carbon management, low carbon design advice, social, education, heritage and health sectors.

David Coundon, Director

David has extensive experience of leading and motivating multi-disciplinary teams to create award winning projects. David has a broad experience covering most building types including arts, educational, commercial, leisure, sports, retail and mixed-use schemes. Due to his extensive cross-sector experience he has led many masterplanning and urban design projects including the design and delivery of a series of complex projects within historic environments.

His particular strength is creating the right design concept and ensuring this is translated into physical reality without compromise and this skill has been recognised by a series of awards. Building on his environmental qualifications, David has pushed a sustainability agenda through many of his built projects.